

Early voting is coming to an end and I want to strongly encourage you to vote early in person or to fill out your early ballot and turn it in at your nearest dropbox on or before November 1st.

As the general election on November 5th approaches, I want to stress the significant impact your vote has on defining the future of our community and state.

By casting your ballot, you exercise your right to influence the decisions that shape our lives and the prosperity of Arizona. Your engagement in this society-altering process is crucial for ensuring our voices are heard and our interests are protected.

Fiscally Conservative

A responsible state budget is critical for the sustainability of Arizona. My approach focuses on prioritizing essential services to ensure that taxpayer money is spent wisely and effectively.

By efficiently allocating resources, we can continue to support vital public services without placing unnecessary financial burdens on our residents. I will make sure that our state funds are put to good use.

Education

Providing quality educational options is a cornerstone of our community's well-being.

I am committed to expanding access to charter schools and Empowerment Scholarship Accounts (ESAs) to empower families with more educational choices.

By increasing these opportunities, we can tailor learning experiences that better suit the diverse needs of Arizona's children, paving the way for a brighter future for our students.

Border Security

Securing Arizona's southern border remains one of my top priorities Supporting funding for state-of-the-art technology and infrastructure improvements at the border is essential to maintaining our security and enhancing the efficiency of border management.

My goal is to safeguard our state from illegal activities while ensuring that lawful trade and travel can continue seamlessly, which foster safety and growth in our communities.

HELP KEEP ARIZONA STATE HOUSE RED

To strengthen community ties and promote civic engagement, I am dedicated to enhancing community outreach programs.

These efforts will help us uphold our conservative values while fostering a sense of unity and involvement among constituents.

Together, through your active participation and
